ABOUT US

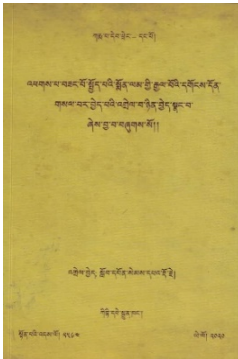

In early 2020, KIBI has commissioned its own publication unit under the wing of the library, with the aim of increasing “the understanding of and engagement with Buddhism and meditation through a publishing programme that fosters enquiry, research, discussion, translation, participation and enjoyment of learning and public access” (KIBS Annual Report 2012/13).

Besides the publishing of teachings by Their Holinesses the Gyalwa Karmapa Thaye Dorje & Künzig Shamar Rinpoche, as well as late Prof. Sempa Dorje, the heart project of KIBI Publications shall be the provision of rare Karma Kagyü texts. However, any project that is in line with authentic Buddha Dharma and based on a wish to support Dharma students in their efforts to develop along the path will have our full dedication.

For any enquiries and orders, please contact us directly – we are looking forward to hearing from you!

Karmapa SERIES -4

A Lamp Illuminating the Twofold Meaning:

A Commentary on Gelongma Palmo's Verses of Praise to Noble Avalokiteśvara (po bstod)

BY ACHARYA SEMPA DORJE

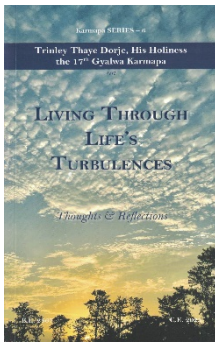

The praise commonly known as “Potö” – offered to Noble Chenrezig by Gelongma Palmo, a female Mahasiddha who had recovered from leprosy through her practice of Nyung Né – is an integral part of the Nyung Né sadhana, nowadays practiced all over the world.

Prof. Sempa Dorje composed a profound commentary on the praise, which will prove useful to academic students and practitioners alike for its in-depth analysis of the terms as well as inspirational descriptions. A true jewel among practice commentaries!

Translation of KS-2. Translated by Khenpo Mriti (Chulthim Gurung) & Christian Masse, revised by Lama Jampa Thaye.

c2023 • xxvii, 72 p. • ISBN: 978-93-83027-14-9

Living Through Life's Turbulences:

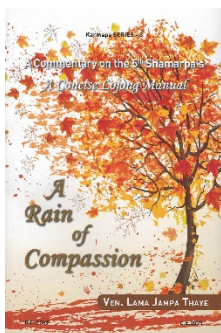

Thoughts & Reflections

TRINLEY THAYE DORJE, HIS HOLINESS THE 17th GYALWA KARMAPA

Throughout the past few years, the entire global population has seen various tragedies, both natural as well as man-made. During these particularly challenging times, Thaye Dorje, His Holiness the 17th Gyalwa Karmapa, on a regular basis shared some of his thoughts and reflections with regards to the pandemic and other disasters; the recurring key themes being karma, impermanence, and compassion. These reflections guide us to, with the support of the Buddha Dharma, find a way to actually live through – instead of merely surviving – any tragedies of life.

A Rain of Compassion:

A Commentary on the 5th Shamarpa's
A Concise Lojong Manual, with reference to the 14th Künzik Shamar Rinpoché's
 Oral Exposition

VEN. LAMA JAMPA THAYE

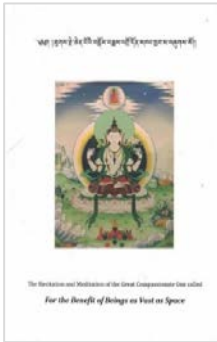

A Rain of Compassion contains the teachings Ven. Lama Jampa Thaye gave during the Karmapa Public Course 2015 at KIBI, New Delhi, expounding on the Fifth Shamarpa Könchok Yenlak's A Concise Lojong Manual. Conveying these traditional teachings in a manner easily relateable for occidental students, his profound, crystal-clear elucidations enable the practitioner to both deepen their understanding of the meaning as well as help them in their practice of application.

With a foreword by His Holiness the 17th Gyalwa Karmapa Thaye Dorje.

Karmapa SERIES -3

For the Benefit of Beings as Vast as Space

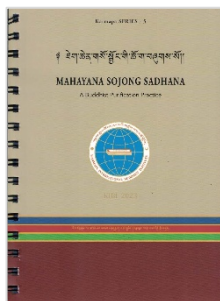

The Recitation and Meditation of the Great Compassionate One

Chenrezig (skt. Avalokiteśvara) is the embodiment of the compassion of all Buddhas, and as such plays an important role in tantric, particularly in Tibetan Buddhism. The practice found in this booklet is an essential tool to develop one's innate qualities, foremost the quality of compassion.

Mahayana Sojong Sadhana

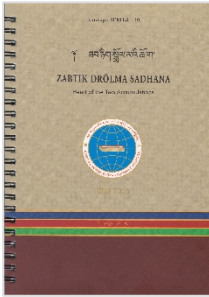

A Mahayana Practice to Purify Oneself of Mistakes in the Context of Buddhist Vows

The very ground for proceeding along the Buddhist path is proper ethical conduct, which is anchored in the upholding of the Pratimokṣa vows. As it is likely to make mistakes when maintaining vows, there are various methods in Buddhism to purify oneself from these faults – one of them being the practice of sojong.

This practice manual, designed as supplemental reference for KIBI's Public Meditation Course, has been arranged according to Ven. Maniwa Lama Sherab Gyaltsen Rinpoche's instructions, and was fully revised and corrected.

Seventh, fully revised edition, c2023 • xix, 143 p. • illustrated • ISBN: 978-93-83027-12-5

Zabtik Drölma Sadhana

Heart of the Two Accumulations

Green Tārā is one of the most important Yidams in Tibetan Buddhism, beloved especially by Tibetans. Playing a central role within the Kamtsang Kagyü lineage, her practice is conducted every morning in all Kagyü monasteries and centres around the globe, and is usually taken up by every practitioner as first Yidam upon completion of the Ngöndro.

The edition at hand includes the Tibetan text, English translation as well as transliteration. The root text was rendered into English by Ven. Dupsing Rinpoché. The booklet furthermore includes a practical, detachable sheet with the 21 Homages, the pictures and names of the 21 Tārās, which can be easily moved to the respective place when they are to be recited.

First edition, c2025 • xvi, 101 p. • illustrated • ISBN: 978-93-83027-23-1
